In this Catalogue the titles of 138 papers are given. In the ten following years this number must have been very considerably augmented. Dr. Schmidt was admitted an Honorary Doctor of the University of Bonn, on the occasion of the foundation festival held in 1868, and he was elected an Associate of the Royal Astronomical Society on January 9, 1874. He continued in the full activity of his labours, and retained his character for acuteness for observing to the last. The same number of the Astronomische Nachrichten which contains the results of his last observations of variable stars, made during the year 1883, also gives his obituary notice. Dr. Schmidt had attended a reception at the German Embassy, at Athens, on the evening of Wednesday, February 6, 1884, apparently in his usual health. On the morning of February 7 he was found dead in his bed, having expired suddenly some time during the night. Universal regret was expressed throughout the city on the announcement of his sudden death, and his funeral was fitly made one of national mourning, the King and Queen of Greece attending at the Observatory during the delivery of the funeral oration. At the time of his death Dr. Schmidt was in the fifty-ninth year of his age. E. D. Proceedings of Observatories. The following Reports of the proceedings of Observatories during the past year have been received by the Council from the Directors of the several Observatories....
